| Description |

It will be observed that there has been very little alter-tion in the quotations for stocks included in this list-fery few of these stocks are used much for speculation in Wall street, but are purchased principally for invest-nent, and seldom are quoted among the sales at either one. The speculators prefer operating in fancy and de-inquent State stocks.

With n the part week or two several legislatures have adjourned. The Legislature of Illimois adjourned on the latinst. During the session several important bills connected with the ctate finances were passed. The most important one was that in relation to the payment of pert of the interest on the State debt, which secures the canal connecting the waters of the Mississippi with those of Luke Mi thingan at Chicago, and provides for the resumption of payment of part of the annual interest on the State debt, gradually increasing the per cent until the full interest is paid annually. Bithois can in fact no longer be considered a delinquent State, aithough the resumption of payment is not complete, but the State can take a place between the delinquent and solvent States. A bill reducing the rate of interest from twelve per cont per annum to six per cent, passed the Legiplature of Illimois the session just closed. Several other bills regulating the finanrical and political stairs of the State were passed, which will tend much to the improvement of the people.

The Lagislature of Maryland adjourned on the 12th inst. During the session several acts and amendments to acts were passed providing revenue to pay the interest on the public debt of the State. A bill was introduced setting a time—the last of July—to resume the payment of interest of the State debt, and another to fund the interest in arrears to the first of April next, at five per cent, but matther passed. Had the Legislature remained in session a few days longer, we have no doubt both these bills would have become laws, but the constitution of the State of Maryland will without dout be able to pay the semiannual interest due in July, but as it requires a special act of the Legislature fund the interest in arrears, and the several tax bills passed t MATANXAS, March 7.—Since my last the arrivals have been the Zephyr and J. Hancock from your port with Rice, and the Exchange from Savannah. No sake have been made. In Havana they have 2000 casks afoot and in tore, besides several cargoes that have been re-exported destined partly for New Orleans. A good deal more is said to be on the way.

Baltimore Cattle Market.

The offerings of Beef Cattle at the Scales on Monday embraced about 300 head, 00 of which were driven North, and all of the balance soid to the city butchers. Prices show a slight but not a material advance. Some very inferior pricels were sold as low as $2 per 160 lbs on the hoot, while the best lots brought $3,25. The sales would probably average about $3 per 100 lbs on the hoof, which is equal to $6,75 not. The supply of Live Hogs has been about equal to the demand this week; and sales have been made at $4,70 a $5 per 100 lbs.

Buddenly, on Sunday morning, 18th March, Dalmon Frances, cartman, at the age of 58. He was a native of Germany, but for nearly 50 years a resident of this State and city, and for almost 35 years a very efficient city watchman. Whoever knew him, and the number is the sunday of the state of t

SPRING AND SUMMER PLATES OF FASHIONS.
Will be ready for delivery by the 25th instant, at the Store of his Agent. A. WHELLER, No. 4 Courtland: street, a few doors west of Broadway.

Mr. OLIVER has spent the last year in Europe, where he has been devoting his sime, money and talents, to the getting up of Fashions, and he ventures nothing by saying, that his Spring Place for 1845, will throw far in the back ground all other Plates of Fashions, that have been or may be published this season. Mr. O. assures the trade, that nothing has been if undone, nor expense spared, that could in the least degree contribute to make his Spring Plateins surpass any thing of the kind ever published in Europe or America, and he teels confident that it will receive the seneral approbation of the trade.

Mr. OLIVER again calls the attention of the trade to his celebrated SYSTEM OF CUTTING, which is rapidly doing away with all the systems now in use in the United States, and which has been received with such general approbation by the Toilors of England and France, is still to be had of his Agent, Mr. Wheeler, who will explain its very perfect and simple principles, to any who wish to obtain it. Did not Mr O. honeatly believe that the claims of his System were founded on its preeminent principles for a correct and sure fit, it would not at this time be brought to the notice of the trade; tut, he would ask, can any stronger evidence be adduced in favor of it than the riumphant success it has met with in England, France, and America? It may be had at the moderate ex; ense of seven dolrhanding to make the moderate ex; ense of seven dolrhanding to and explosing the cash, they may rely upon the State. What is to be done with them remains to be seen; Colonel Polk is determined to provide for his friends, promptly, decisively, and energetically, yet with caution, and the ever present self-possession of an old campaigner.

There is a prospect of an interesting rubbing of chins between Bachelor Ring, our Minister in France. Bachelor King has as his Secretary of Legation, a certain Dr. Martin, distinguished as a gentleman and a scholar. The Doctor, under Mr. Van Buren's administration, was chief clerk to the Secretary of State, and an able and efficient officer, too. Mr. Buchanan knows it; and desires the assistance of a scholar skilled in foreign languages, and experienced in the relations of the State Department with foreign nations, as the Doctor is known to be. Mr. King will be reluctant to spare the Doctor, but if Old Buck is pertinacious, in view of the prospective advances to the Doctor from a connection with the State Department, we think that Bachelor King will have to surrender. We are informed that despatches have been sent to Paris requesting of Mr. King the presence and services of the Doctor in the Home Department. Mr. Buchanan says that either the Doctor or F. J. Grund must be returned.

Respecting the "Statement of Francis Thomas" of Maryland, Ex. Governor, implicating Governor McDowell, of Va., Senator Benton, and other relatives of Miss McD (now Mrs. Thomas), in an alleged collusion of palming upon said Thomas contraband matrimonial merchandize—the bays are to-day busily employed in hawking the pamphlet round the streets. The general impression is, that Ex. Governor Thomas has acted in this mater like the villanous bird, "which befouls its own nest;" that he is either an insane man, or a weak, chicken-hearted and very maignant man, thus to publish to the world the imaginary horrors, gorgons, and chimeras dire of his unhappy conjugal compact. In fact, the concupisence of Ex. Governor Thomas is brought into question; for the disparity of his age with that of his young wife, his immediate an Washington, March 15, 1845. The Senate-Mr. Bates nearly Dead-Zollverein Treaty-Adjournment-Collector for Providence -Fuss Thereat-Miss Clarendon's Dramatic En tertainment.

The Senate to-day has confirmed but very few nominations, and those of minor importance, ha-ving been engaged during its sitting in the discussion of the Zollverein Treaty, which they will probably dispose of in some manner prior to their adjournment. Mr. Bates, of Massachusetts, was so very low last evening that he was not expected to live through the night, and this morning it was very generally reported all over the city that h was dead; and it obtained so ready a credence that Senators came to the capitol prepared to resolve to attend his funeral, &c., &c. The report, however,

Senators came to the capitol prepared to resolve to attend his funeral, &c., &c. The report, however, turned out to be incorrect, and Mr. Bates is not dead, though it is hardly probable that he can recover. I have understood that his disease was originally lung fever, aggravated and rendered dangerous by the exertion and excitement of speaking upon the resolutions for the annexation of Texas. The final adjournment of the Senate for this session is now confidently anticipated to take place on Tuesday next.

Among the nominations that have been sent in to the Senate is that of a Mr. Harris for Collector of the port of Providence. There are a considerable number of Rhode Islanders here and the way they take on about this nomination is a caution. They protest that Mr. Harris is nobody at all; that he is not known in Providence; that he is not respectable nor any thing like it; that he professes to belong to the Dorrites, but is not recognised by them, and a multitude of other hard things. They say that Providence is the second port in New England, a wealthy, 'highly respectable' (that's the fashionable term,) and pretty well populated town, and they think that President Polk might give them some respectable person for their collector—nay, they do not care whether he be whig, democrat, Dorrite, Polkite, or any thing else, so long as he is "respectable"—some body they know. There's a pretty to do about it. Mr. Burke, of New Hampshire, the author of the famous report on the affairs of Rhode Island, had the credit given to him by these men of having procured Mr. Harris' appointment, and they talk about him considerable, and his report too. They are making a great effort to have him rejected, though I know not what will be the result—perhaps if he is confirmed, Mr. Polk may losseihe support of the democracy of Providence, Rhode Island. Awiul! What will he do if that happens?

Miss Clarendon gave one of her dramatic entertainments at the Concert Rooms last evening. Her beauty sates to have been improved by her late illne

With the revolution of every day is evolved some new political development-some straw or two, showing the windward quarter of the compass, and the conflicting currents of air, fogs and electricity, in the political atmosphere.

Tennessee is exciting the jealousy of the politicians of other and less fortunate States. Tennessee rules the roast. Tennessee, the home of the Old Lion and the Young Hickory, is going ahead of Old Lion and the Young Hickory, is going ahead of all competition. She has the President, the Postmaster General, the Consul to Liverpool, the Charge to Naples, and in the confirmation yesterday of S. H. Loghiin, as Recorder of the General Land Office, is really awakening some curiosity to know where those fat offices to Tennessee are to stop. In this last appointment, we see another instructive exemplification of the glory and fall of old Cardinal Weisey, that basest and most skulking Jesuitical demagogue of the reign of that half beast and half devil, the accursed Henry VIII.; Reuben
